APPOINTMENT OF BATTEN ENDOWED CHAIR OF COUNSELING IN THE DARDEN COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

RESOLVED that, upon the recommendation of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee the Board of Visitors approves the appointment of Edward S.
Neukrug as the Batten Endowed Chair of Counseling for ~~2022~~ through 2025/2026.
A summary of his career is included below for information purposes.

"The purpose of the award of a named professorship is to recognize and provide support to an Old Dominion University faculty member who has exhibited sustained excellence in teaching and/or research as well as a continuing, exemplary commitment to the University. Appointments to named professor po

he is fully engaged in the teaching, advising/mentoring, research, and professional obligations expected of a Professor. In doing so, his achievements exceed what is "normally" expected from a faculty member serving in an administrative post. This is his final year in his term as Chair of the Department of Counseling & Human Services.

Dr. Neukrug is an exemplary scholar who has authored 10 books, 2 encyclopedias, and experiential manual for teaching (31 editions of all his books), nearly 100 journal articles, book chapters, and encyclopedia entries. His scholarship has explored counseling theory, professional identity and ethics, attendance in religious and psychotherapy, and use of various assessment instruments in the counseling profession. Dr. Neukrug ensures his research is timely, relevant, and accessible in today's evolving outlets. He has developed an open access site, Great Therapists of the Twentieth Century, where faculty and other users can virtually a caricature of 17 famous therapists such as Freud and Skinner. He also developed an open access survey for students and others to assess their theoretical orientation to counseling and psychotherapy.

Dr. Neukrug has consistently received stellar ratings on student opinion surveys. In addition to being recognized as a University Professor, he has received college and university teaching awards and was nominated by the college for the SCHEV Outstanding Faculty Award. He is a tireless proponent of diversity, chairing the college's faculty diversity committee for eight years, advocating multicultural counseling, and he has been a diversity trainer and chaired diversity committees for accreditation reports and strategic planning initiatives. He has received the John R. Broderick Diversity Champion Award at ODU for his efforts in promoting diversity.

Inside his profession, Dr. Neukrug is a respected scholar and leader. Over the years, he served as editor or co-editor of the Journal of Human Services, the leading journal of his field. He was also the architect of the original ethics code for the National Organization of Human Services (NOHS), and he has been awarded the NOHS President's Award on two occasions in recognition of his leadership as a state president of counseling association, service on professional editorial boards, and scholarship, advocacy and commitment to the counseling profession, he was appointed a Fellow of the American Counseling Association.

His stated intention as the holder of the Batten Chair of Counseling is to use his entrepreneurial background and professional creativity to develop The Institute for the Advancement of Counseling Theory and Practice (ITCTP), where faculty and doctoral students in the Counseling Program would conduct counseling and wellness sessions for students dealing with situational and threatening life problems. Over the longer term, he envisions offering low-cost or free counseling services to the community.

Dr. Neukrug holds a B.A. in Psychology from SUNY at Binghamton, M.S. in Counseling from Miami University (Ohio), and an Ed.D. in Counselor Education from University of Cincinnati.
